FUND OBJECTIVE

The Growth MultiFund aims to provide high levels of growth with moderate to high levels of risk and volatility over the medium to longer-term.
The Sub-Fund is actively managed and is not managed in reference to any benchmark. It is managed by reference to a performance target which is to outperform USD LIBID +3% to 5% over a minimum five years.

SUITABILITY & RISK AND REWARD

The Growth MultiFund is suitable for clients with an investment time horizon of a minimum 5 years. Investing in the fund involves a risk to capital in order to achieve the desired return.

To achieve the investment objective, the portfolio invests across a range of asset classes within a strategic and tactical asset allocation framework designed to maximise diversification benefits. An absolute and relative valuation-based approach underpins this framework, resulting in a multilayered process to facilitate disciplined decision-making and risk management.

Portfolio construction combines exposures to active fund managers, who are expected to outperform their defined benchmarks and passive investment vehicles which provide low cost access to markets. This blend of active and passive funds is used to create a competitively priced investment solution.

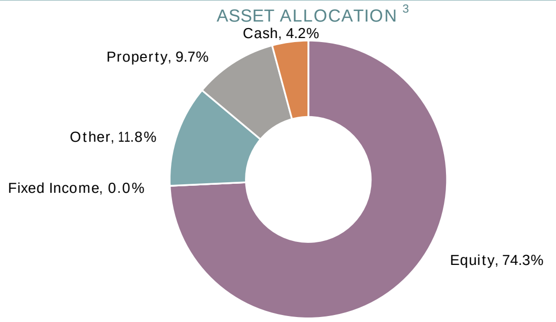
ASSET ALLOCATION [3]



1) The annualised total return is the average return earned by an investment each year over a given time period. Performance is calculated for the portfolio and individual investment performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment, the actual investment date, the date of any reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. Data source Nedgroup Investments (IOM) Limited.
2) The on-going fee is a measure of the actual expenses incurred in the management of the Classes of the Sub -Fund. The on-going fee shown is expressed as a percentage of the monthly average value of the portfolio calculated over a 12-month period as at the date shown. The current on-going fee cannot be used as an indication of future on-going fees. A higher on-going fee does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low on-going fee imply a good return.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Our base case remains intact albeit that we have seen signs of a peaking in the growth environment. We do however remain in expansionary territory. To this end the economic and corporate environment remains constructive for risk assets although this is not to say that it is overly compelling as we have to reflect on valuations within certain equity sectors looking full. But policy, particularly within developed markets, remains supportive with central banks seemingly comfortable with running economies hot for longer in order to stimulate a sustained economic recovery. We commented last time that Inflation control, for so long the raison d'etre of central banks, appears to have given way for employment support and job creation in general, with the position of more dovish central banks remaining. And when unemployment is falling equities tend to rise.

The primary risk to our view remains with the efficient unlocking of global trade. Strong stimulus has created artificially high demand, which, combined with supply chain challenges has led to upward inflationary pressure. Our base case is that inflation will remain elevated but off near term peak levels and certainly manageable. We are therefore looking for the 'goldilocks' scenario with economies to run 'not too hot, and not too cold' for a period of time allowing central banks to maintain their dovish, supportive stance and for supply chain issues to run their course. The threat is that energy prices continue to spur inflation and stifle economic growth creating a stagflationary environment.

COVID itself remains a threat, albeit more peripheral than previously commented on. There is clear evidence of a levelling up of the global vaccine rollout, where previously we had observed a twin-speed split (where economic prosperity clearly played a role). The risk of an as yet unidentified variant displaying resilience to current vaccines should not be ignored but likewise can only be factored in if evidence presents itself. This scenario would clearly delay the global economic reopening.

We remain broadly positive on risk assets, but particularly towards developed equities and specifically to the more domestic markets within Western Europe including the UK. We are mindful however that emerging market valuations have become more compelling recently and may be of interest again in the near future. Within fixed income asset classes we prefer credit over duration given the uncertain backdrop of rates in the mid-term. Broadly we feel that the environment is supportive towards default rates as economies expand. Last but by no means least we have a broad preference for real assets and certain alternative strategies in part to provide diversification and a degree of insurance to portfolios, something that one might have relied on fixed income for in the past. But also to provide a degree of inflation protection to portfolios

PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The end of September saw the Growth MultiFund close the quarter slightly weaker in USD terms albeit ahead of the peer group. This follows a strong period of growth with the year to date return close to 10% comfortably ahead of both peer group and longer term cash (+) targets.

Equity positions saw a relatively volatile period with Fundsmith Equity falling back 5.6% on the month of September to close the quarter -0.9%, albeit still marginally ahead of its reference global index. Of particular note has been the weakness in emerging markets following the regulatory clampdown in China and concerns around the Evergrande fallout. The primary position of TT Emerging Markets saw a fall of 11.9% on the quarter. As mentioned in the previous quarter commentary, we instigated a number of changes to equity positioning during June, including a significant reduction in emerging market exposure. These changes have proven fortuitous in helping reduce the impact of the near-term fallout from emerging markets. Elsewhere we reduced exposure to global passive strategies in favour of building positions in regional and style focused allocations, to ensure a bias towards pan European economies and a more domestic focus.

We maintained a zero weighting to fixed income over the period, preferring real assets and alternative strategies and there were some standout names, of note was BMO Commercial Property which continued its impressive recovery with a further rise of 7.4% on the quarter. The trust has now increased by almost 25% on the year, reflecting the continued improvements in UK economic conditions, a tightening discount to NAV, and several strategic transactions including the recent sale of Cassani House at a significant premium to book value. Elsewhere KKV has continued to recover its footing as the replacement management look to wind-up its loan book. There have been a number of positive announcements over the quarter, adding to the story building over the year. The trust rose 42% on the quarter and is now +117% up year to date.

In terms of broader portfolio activity we continued to trim back some of our exposure to investment trust holdings in part to make way for a new position within Private Equity in the form of Oakley Capital Investments. Also to accommodate an additional position within our favoured area of infrastructure. This time through an indirect fund, Atlas Global Infrastructure.
