FUND OBJECTIVE

The Balanced MultiFund aims to provide moderate levels of growth with moderate levels of risk and volatility over the medium to longer-term.

The Sub-Fund is actively managed and is not managed in reference to any benchmark. It is managed by reference to a performance target which is to outperform USD 3M SOFR +1% to 3% over a minimum three years.

SUITABILITY & RISK AND REWARD

The Balanced MultiFund is suitable for clients with an investment time horizon of a minimum 3 years. Investing in the fund involves a risk to capital in order to achieve the desired return.

To achieve the investment objective, the portfolio invests across a range of asset classes within a strategic and tactical asset allocation framework designed to maximise diversification benefits. An absolute and relative valuation-based approach underpins this framework, resulting in a multilayered process to facilitate disciplined decision-making and risk management.

Portfolio construction combines exposures to active fund managers, who are expected to outperform their defined benchmarks and passive investment vehicles which provide low cost access to markets. This blend of active and passive funds is used to create a competitively priced investment solution.

1) The annualised total return is the average return earned by an investment each year over a given time period. Performance is calculated for the portfolio and individual investment performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment, the actual investment date, the date of any reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. Data source Nedgroup Investments (IOM) Limited.

2) The on-going fee is a measure of the actual expenses incurred in the management of the Classes of the Sub-Fund. The on-going fee shown is expressed as a percentage of the monthly average value of the portfolio calculated over a 12-month period as at the date shown. The current on-going fee cannot be used as an indication of future on-going fees. A higher on-going fee does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low on-going fee imply a good return.

KEY RISKS

- The Fund could lose money if a counterparty with which the Fund trades becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations, or as a result of failure or delay in operational processes or the failure of a third party provider.
- Shares can lose value rapidly, and typically involve higher risks than bonds or money market instruments. The value of your investment may fall as a result.
- The Fund invests in other funds (including exchange traded funds and investment trusts/companies), which may introduce more risky assets, derivative usage and other risks, as well as contributing to a higher level of ongoing charges.
- The Fund may use derivatives with the aim of reducing risk or managing the portfolio more efficiently. However this introduces other risks, in particular, that a derivative counterparty may not meet its contractual obligations.
- If the Fund holds assets in currencies other than the base currency of the Fund or you invest in a share class of a different currency to the Fund (unless 'hedged'), the value of your investment may be impacted by changes in exchange rates.
- Securities within the Fund could become hard to value or to sell at a desired time and price, especially in extreme market conditions when asset prices may be falling, increasing the risk of investment losses.
- The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise and you may not get back the amount originally invested.
- Tax assumptions and reliefs depend upon an investor's particular circumstances and may be subject to change.

April 2022

MARKET COMMENTARY

April proved to be a difficult month for markets following what was a challenging first quarter, as concerns over global growth surfaced. Markets started to question the ability of central banks to engineer a “soft landing” for economies given stubbornly high and increasing inflation. Especially, against an increasingly complicated global backdrop of Chinese lockdowns, to deal with COVID outbreaks, and the ongoing Russian invasion of Ukraine. Whilst underlying economic fundamentals remained broadly healthy in April (especially with regards to employment). The impact of high inflation, and rising interest rates are without doubt headwinds for confidence, consumer spending, and therefore growth going forward. Central banks face a testing time ahead!

Global equity markets (-6.5%) were down sharply on the month, with the more tech-heavy US market (-9.1%) falling the most, given concerns over high valuations with technology related stocks and the impact on these of rising interest (discount) rates. The UK stock market (+1.0%) managed to buck the downward trend in April, as it has done so-far this year, benefiting from its relatively high weight to materials / energy stocks. In terms of style, growth stocks (-11.2%) underperformed the more value / cyclically (-5.0%) orientated equities. This was also reflected in sector performance with higher valued Communication Services (-12.4%), Information Technology (-11.7%), and the more cyclical exposed Consumer Discretionary (-11.0%) sectors falling the most. The defensive Consumer Staples (+0.6%) sector was the place to be during the month along with Energy (-1.2%) and Utilities (-3.0%) on a relative basis.

Within fixed income markets, despite increasing concerns over growth and falling equity markets, the expectation of increasing rate hikes from central banks due to high and persistent inflation meant there was again no place “to hide” in fixed income. Looking at the detail, global government bonds (-2.6%) and global investment grade credit (-4.0%) generated a negative return over the month, whilst at the riskier end of the spectrum global high yield (-3.2%) and emerging market hard currency debt (-5.5%) also declined as spreads widened.

In terms of real assets, property markets marginally outperformed equities over the month with the global REITs index down -5.4% over the period. Commodities (+4.1%) rose for yet another month (+30.7% year to date), led mainly by agriculture (+5.7%) and crude oil (+3.9%) as a result of continued supply concerns due to the war between Russia and Ukraine. Industrial metals (-6.3%) fell on the back of global demand concerns, whilst gold (-2.1%) was weak, despite the decline in risk appetite, due to a combination of higher interest rate expectations (greater opportunity cost) and a stronger US dollar.

PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The end of April saw the Balanced MultiFund close the month down around -3.4% for the US dollar share classes and -1.8% for the GBP share classes, the difference reflecting the strength of the US dollar over the period. This follows a strong period of growth with the three year returns comfortably ahead of both peer group and longer term cash (+) targets.

Within equities, all our holdings outperformed global equity markets. Funds such as Morgan Stanley Global Brands (-3.6%) and Fundsmith Equity Fund (-5.7%) that have a high exposure to the more defensive areas such as consumers staples, performed the best on a relative basis. Our tilt towards more value orientated equities was also helpful given the more dramatic selloff in growth stocks.

Fixed income positions were negative on the month. Our overall bias towards short dated corporate bonds was a significant tailwind for relative performance, as the rise in government bond yields caused longer maturity bonds to underperform. However, the increase in volatility as a result of a decline in equity markets meant all fixed income holdings generated negative returns for the period as credit spreads widened.

Elsewhere, there were a wide range of performances within our real asset and alternative strategy space, but overall they were both areas that were supportive for returns. Within property, BMO Commercial Property was up (+2.8%) bucking the general risk-off environment, as a result of a continued recovery in rental growth and property valuations in the UK (especially in industrial, logistics and retail warehouses). Our listed global REITs holding Nedgroup Global Property Fund (-0.7%) while falling marginally significantly outperformed its benchmark and the decline in global equities. Within infrastructure, our overall exposure to renewable energy infrastructure continued to be positive for returns. The sector saw good quarterly results and was seen as further benefiting from the current high level of electricity prices and inflation (for example Greencoat UK Wind rose +5.0% , Greencoat Renewables +3.4%, and JLEN Environmental Assets Group rallied +1.6%). The more traditional infrastructure holdings, 3i Infrastructure (+1.2%) and Atlas Global Infrastructure (-2.5%), were more mixed in April but together easily outperformed listed infrastructure and global equity markets. Within our alternative positions it is also worth highlighting the performance of our private equity holdings, Oakley Capital Investments (+2.6%) and Princess Private Equity (+3.6%), with both managing to generate positive returns during what was a tough month. The two positions in song royalties, Hipgnosis Songs Fund (-3.3%) and Round Hill Music Royalty Fund (+8.0%), were more mixed with Round Hill Music being more recently supported by the release of strong annual results. Finally, our recent holding in energy efficiency via SDCL Energy Efficiency Income Trust (+3.5%) was also positive for returns.

In terms of portfolio activity, we participated in a capital raise by Gore Street Energy Storage Fund, a UK domiciled investment trust listed on London Stock Exchange which invests solely in energy storage (batteries). We see Gore Street Energy Storage Fund as an attractive investment opportunity allowing us to tap into a growing market which is critical for the global energy transition to net zero. Renewable energy sources are by their very nature intermittent making balancing demand/supply of electricity more challenging. Battery storage systems can therefore help to maintain the stability of the grid. It terms of other changes we reduced our position within equities, specifically European mid-cap given our more cautious view on growth. We also marginally increased the average maturity (interest rate sensitivity) of the fixed income portfolio given the outlook and the extent that bonds yields have already risen this year.
